

Birthday Prayer for My Son

Heavenly Father,

I come before you today in celebration and thanksgiving for the gift of my son. I thank you for blessing me with my son, allowing me to understand a glimpse of Your love for us as your children. I pray that you bless my son today and throughout his life. Grant him good health, a strong body, a resilient immune system, and sufficient nutrition. Make it possible for him to continue to nurture positive, healthy relationships with friends and family members. Enrich his life with hobbies that ignite his passion, allowing him to enjoy the goodness of your creation and use his talents to glorify You. Give him the motivation to foster good habits in his life so that he may achieve his goals as well as maintain a fulfilling, faith-filled lifestyle that honors You. Protect him always, keeping him safe, both in daily interactions and daily travels. Protect him from evil, strengthening his will to resist the temptations of the Devil. Above all, Lord, please strengthen his faith and relationship with You, including You, praising You, serving You, and loving You always.

We ask this through Christ our Lord. Amen.
